All pupils will

- b. Ensure that they do not intentionally or recklessly interfere with equipment provided for safety purposes e.g. fire extinguishers etc.
- c. Inform any member of staff of any situation which may affect their safety.

2.8 Staff Safety Representative responsibilities

Health and Safety at work law provides for the appointment of trade union appointed safety representatives from amongst the employees.

St Aloysius College recognises and fully accepts the requirements of the Health and Safety (Consultation with Employees) Regulations 1996 and the Safety Representatives and Safety Committee Regulations 1977. It will co-operate with council recognised trade union appointed safety representatives and elected staff representatives for safety when introducing measures to ensure the health and safety at work of employees. St Aloysius College will therefore incorporate employee representation into the health and safety consultative structure.

Safety representatives appointed by their trade union may represent non-trade union employees within the representatives agreed constituency but subject to the employees' agreement. Non-trade union representatives for safety may represent employees but only following agreement from the employees to be represented. All appointments and facilities will be subject to those rules and conditions as established for that purpose by the school.

Safety representatives will be provided with sufficient facility time to carry out their responsibilities and time-off with pay for relevant training. Their functions will include:

- a. To make representation to management in respect to health, safety and welfare issues affecting employees;
- b. To inspect the workplace each quarter year;
- c. To investigate accidents, hazards and dangerous occurrences;

2.9 Educational Visits Co-ordinator

To help fulfil its health and safety obligations for visits, establishments are encouraged to appoint an Educational Visits Co-ordinator (EVC) who will support the Head Teacher. In small establishments the EVC may also be the Head teacher or manager. Should the establishment choose not to appoint an EVC, those functions will automatically fall to the Head of Establishment.

The EVC should be specifically competent, ideally with practical experience in leading and managing a range of visits similar to those typically run by the school. Commonly, but not exclusively, such competence will be identified in a person on the senior management of the establishment.

The EVC should attend initial training as soon as possible after appointment. Subsequent update training or a repeat full course is particularly recommended for those who are involved in the role infrequently.

The EVC must ensure that a policy is in place for educational and off-site visits, and that this is updated as necessary. This should be readily available to staff via their establishment's own EVOLVE Resources (online system) section.
